Contribution to the economy and environment

We generate economic value in several ways including wages to our people, purchases from local and global suppliers, taxes and dividends, thus making contribution to the economy.

At the same time, we are committed to protecting the environment in mainly two ways. Firstly, taking advantage of our location in quality resource-abundant city, we also refine our manufacturing method such as rapid heating to save energy, and our products feature longer serving life, thus saving raw materials. Also, our company strictly adheres to the environmental protection regulations, and pays special attention to environmental protection in our manufacturing, packaging and transportation, etc.
